Rockville Brass Band

Greetings members, ex-members, friends and supporters of the Rockville Brass Band.

The Rockville Brass Band's 2009-2010 season finished with seven concerts in eight weeks – I understand that this is the busiest season that the band has ever had. And what a season! Fantastic playing, great crowds and new venues. Thanks to the band for such an impressive time, pulling out all the stops and working so hard to produce a great year.

Lindsay Walker, the Band's webmaster, has started to put some of our recordings on to the Band's website at <http://www.rockvillebrassband.org/page13/page13.html>. Please keep an eye out as she puts on more. There is a new photograph of the band on the front-page; it was taken at this year's concert on 16th May for the Norway Day event, which is organized by the Norwegian embassy. We hope to add more photographs and recordings over the summer – so keep your eye out on the website.

This year has seen many new members join the Band. However, we now have to say goodbye to Jacob Hurwitz (3rd cornet) who has been awarded a place at MIT. We are sad to see him go, but we wish him all the success for the future.

With Jacob's departure, the Band now has a vacancy for 3rd cornet, in addition to its vacancy on percussion. Applicants are welcome to email Nigel Horne, the musical director, on director@rockvillebrassband.org.

The band will resume playing after the summer holidays, soon after Labor Day.

Thank you all again for your support. The band is always interested in hearing from ex-members and our supporters – please send your emails, stories and comments to Nigel Horne on the above email address.
